YESTech, Inc. Names Kevin Garcia Applications Manager

San Clemente, CA – July 27, 2006 – YESTech, Inc., an innovative provider of yield enhancement solutions for electronics manufacturers, today announced that Kevin Garcia has been promoted to the position of Applications Manager, effective July 2006. In this new role, Garcia is responsible for the management of all YESTech applications engineers and ensuring YESTech’s award winning level of customer satisfaction. His responsibilities include system installation scheduling for all systems, as well as providing support and troubleshooting backup for the on-sight application engineers in addition to managing all customer concerns to ensure quality on a timely basis.

"Kevin has been a significant addition to YESTech’s technical organization," said Don Miller, President of YESTech, Inc. "His assembly experience and engineering background, coupled with his excellent customer support skills provide YESTech with the key individual to help ensure that our complete customer satisfaction commitment is a reality. We’re delighted to have Kevin onboard our management team," said Miller.

Originally Garcia joined YESTech as an Applications Engineer where he provided applications and hardware engineering support for their automated optical inspection and X-Ray systems designed for electronic assembly inspection. He was responsible for installation and training for YESTech as well as troubleshooting and hardware and software repair.

Prior to working at YESTech, Garcia was the IT Account Manager for TechRoom, Inc. where he managed new IT service and support for small business clients in Southern California, as well as the planning and implementation of onsite client’s network/server setup, maintenance, onsite technology troubleshooting and preventive maintenance, along with in-house technical service for Apple and PC desktop/laptop computers. Garcia is a graduate of the University of California, Irvine with a B.S. in Computer Engineering
